Show your app as featured, with description, screenshots and... . About Me My name is Martin Fraiser and I am a freelance game programmer and artist. I have written several childrens games: the scrabble tile game Scrabble with tiles (for Windows), and a cardgame called Split Poker (for Windows). I have created many games for the Snes. The oldest one that I wrote is a lightpuzzle game for the Super Gameboy: Helixx (for the Snes). I am currently working on a 2dMafia Game for the iPhone called Matiel karas (Slovak: Murderers and the cornered ones). Note I am not here to advertise anything. I am here to support the language that I am using to develop software for (as a programmer and designer) so I hope you will excuse me for that. I don't need ads, but if you find what I write interesting or useful, please don't hesitate to make a donation. It won't be so expensive as to get me to close my project, but what is important is that I don't have to sacrifice what I do to pay for the webhosting. What I've done is to offer what I do for free. My total expenses as webhosting, domain & other costs are around € 50 per month (EUR) from a european country. I accept PayPal and other e-currencies. You can make a donation as well. All the money that will be provided to me will be invested in the further development of my projects. If you find this page useful, please make a donation. Any donation will be highly appreciated.
