It is the successor to Madden NFL 11, and continues the Madden NFL series that was started in the year 1988 on the Apple II. The game features commentary from Lee Evans and Boomer Esiason, and contains an option called "Videogame setting" where the game can be set to emulate the speed of real life football. The user interface and presentation of the game have been redesigned as well. Next Level Plays: The game features a new "Next Level Plays" system which allows users to manipulate the game by changing formations, rules, player and team characteristics. This system allows users to speed up the gameplay while also being able to slow down the game to get an understanding of how the game works. The game also features a new Difficulty setting, which is labeled as "Hardcore". Keep a Drive: The new "Keep a Drive" mode includes the option to keep the user's player and team with a single play until the next drive is over. The game features a "Drive Leaderboard" where users can compare players and teams in the league. This includes both rating players
