Inter-dimensional task control, constrained by dimensional invariance, is linked to personality measures in people with schizophrenia. Dimensionality reduction has been studied as a mechanism for integrating information across multiple modalities in brain function. This study provides further evidence for an effect of dimensionality reduction in people with schizophrenia, and characterizes the influence of this mechanism on perception and basic cognitive functions. Participants were 18 people with schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorder and 25 healthy controls. They participated in an inter-dimensional attention task with different dimensionality reduction cues, and completed self-report measures of schizotypal personality traits. The results showed that the schizophrenia group had slower reaction times than the control group, especially for a broadened (simplex) saliency dimension. We also found a stronger link between salience dimensionality reduction and schizotypy for the schizophrenia group than for the control group. The results suggest that inter-dimensional task control, constrained by dimensional invariance, is linked to personality measures in people with schizophrenia.

Q: Combinatorics/Number theory: Equation for two sets of positive integers I've been looking for the solution to this equation for the past few hours and have given up, so if you can help me that would be much appreciated!

$$3^2 = 10^2 + 2^3$$

The answer is either $5$ or $13$. A:

$$(a+b)^2 = a^2 + 2ab + b^2$$

So, you want to make $a=3$ and $b=2^3$. The former is trivial, so

$$3^2 = 3 \cdot 2^3 + 2 \cdot 3^2 = 3 \cdot 2^3 + 6 \cdot 3 = 3 \cdot 2^3 + 6 \cdot 2^2 \cdot 3 = 6 \cdot 2^4 + 6 \cdot 2^3 \cdot 3 = 6$$
