[ ] you were everything i needed and i was everything i love. amy winehouse - back in black amy's back in black album [sic] is an acknowledged masterpiece of soul pop that is indebted to the motown of 1960s and 1970s. the album was recorded in a mere four days, making it the shortest recording session of any of her albums. the band included tour musicians zebedye etete , and luigi cascio-mariani , but the album was primarily produced by joe boyd. after winehouse died, an edit of back in black was released in an attempt to capitalize on her later work. winehouse was widely criticized for the editing and the choice of other tracks. she also recorded a version of the song for the 2005 docudrama film dancing queen (2005) which was released on the soundtrack album the following year. the song has been covered by nicki minaj as a single in october 2012 and it has reached number 71 on the billboard hot 100. a remix was later included on the 2013 compilation the ultimate winehouse collection, and she also covered the song during her 2013 st. martins lane residency. she also performed a cover of the song during her 2013 set at the glastonbury festival that took place in the united kingdom. at the 75th golden globe awards, back in black was nominated for best original song but lost to "let it go" from disney film frozen.

Josh Homme makes an impression on Back to Black with his wide range of different styles and voices. Homme is known for being very experimental, and he is at the root of most of the album. He used a bluesman named B.B. King, a rock band, a gospel quartet, a country duo, a jazz trio, and an Afghan tribal orchestra. He mixes bits from all these genres, but it never sounded forced. It seemed like Homme played with all these musicians just to find a voice. He sometimes sounds like a warm person with a cold exterior, and at other times he sounds like he is about to rip off band-aids and throw everything at you. Its just so magical. Amy Winehouse was a British singer and songwriter. Back To Black was released on 3 July 2007 and became her second album to reach number one in the UK Albums Chart. It received universal critical acclaim, but had only average sales upon release. The critically acclaimed single Rehab from the album

Her parents, who were both born in Jamaica, are Sandra (née Benjamin) and Mitch Winehouse. Frank, was released in 2004. Although it was moderately successful and was deemed "wonderful, but not great", it received highly favourable reviews. Vérité, released in 2006, was a major success. It charted at number one in the UK Albums Chart and received widespread critical acclaim.

Although it was not as successful as its predecessor, it was still well-received and was eventually certified eight times platinum by the BPI.
