My Google Home Hub stops broadcasting both WBUR and WGBH every hour at about 3 minutes before the hour. Is this something driven by these public stations or is it a shortcoming of the Google Home system Is there a way I can make an adjustment so that this won't happen? Since the election, I have seen an increase in the number of malicious emails being sent by people I haven't seen for a long time, which is more than a little bizarre since when I was on the board for the original Google Earth audience, we never received any emails with only that information. I was born and raised in another country. After years abroad, I moved back to America. I have Google Maps in my phone. It's almost like you don't know who you're dealing with. You're just being rude because I don't want to pay you? The U.S. space agency's funding for planetary protection and protecting Earth from outside contamination is very low. If you visit these places, you can affect the Earth's environment. NASA has the ability to monitor the progress of planetary protection activities. This is an important role. As the human colonization of Mars is near, we must be cautious. The government is taking appropriate measures. It must use the space station as the first step. Next, it must launch a Mars probe in 2030. I'm having an issue with Google Earth Pro 6.2.2.6613, when I drag the tile containing my address it can't be moved. I tried the suggestions in this question and nothing seems to help. Running on Windows 10 64-bit professional. I downloaded the latest version of Google Earth Pro. Once I did that, I downloaded a program called Google Earth Viewer. Once I clicked the arrow to download it, the program it had some problems, so it terminated, and wouldn't start again. When I clicked on Google Earth Viewer again, it would load up, but I got a blank desktop. When I double-clicked to close, it closed, but when I reopen the application, it opens three times before closing (so I get three blank desktop applications.) Why is this happening? Is there a fix for this?
